

The house was designed with a south facing orientation in mind. During the warmer summer months, note the “green zone” shadow on the north face, where much of the indoor/outdoor living is oriented.

